

Pet medication schedule

Organise current veterinary or product-label instructions without calculating a dose.

MEDICATION

Pet name

Pip.

Medication name from current label

Copy the exact current label name here.

Exact current label or veterinary instruction

Copy the exact current dose and frequency here. This fictional example deliberately contains no dose.

Times to give it

Use the established times supplied with the current instruction.

Current food instruction

Copy the current label or veterinary food wording.

Established administration method

Use only the method already demonstrated and agreed with the veterinary practice.

STORAGE AND EXCEPTIONS

Secure storage and equipment location

Labelled container and supplied equipment in the agreed secure cupboard.

Current missed-dose instruction or Call the vet

Follow the written veterinary instruction; if unavailable, call the practice. Do not guess.

What to record and which change requires a call

Initial after giving. Call for any unexpected reaction or if administration is not possible.

CONTACTS

Owner contact

Alex - checked mobile number.

Regular vet

Usual practice - checked number.

Out-of-hours vet

Current provider - checked number.

IMPORTANT

Never change a dose, crush a tablet, repeat a missed dose or give human medication unless a veterinary professional has explicitly instructed you to do so.